Lack of a proper rehabilitation plan is one of the major challenges faced by National and International agencies. More than only withdrawing children from work, rehabilitation implies providing former child labourers and vulnerable children with proper facilities to maintain them away from work and mainstream them back into the education net.

The objective of our Rehabilitation program is to ensure that vulnerable children and former child labourers not only enjoy their basic rights to childhood but are also given quality education for proper social reintegration.

Our Rehabilitation programs include:

- Residential Model: for children from critical backgrounds through a Residential Care program

- Non-residential strategy: through different education classes and Vocational Skill Training
